To Whom It May Concern:

This letter serves as my personal recommendation for Hana Han. Hana was a student at Le Cordon Bleu College of Culinary Arts, Chicago. I had the pleasure of working with Hana, both in and outside of the classroom. In the classroom, I witnessed her assisting classmates with assignments and constantly striving to get the most she could from her education. She maintained a 4.0 GPA, while being an active member of the Student Ambassadors Club, co-chair of the International Student Committee, a Peer2Peer tutor, and on-campus Student Worker.

She demonstrated her passion for culinary through participation in extracurricular competitions and fundraising initiatives, along with her commitment to professionalism with a perfect attendance record. Hana displayed strong leadership capabilities by assisting college administration to improve the student experience by volunteering for orientation and assisting Instructors, whenever she could.

It is my strong belief that Hana will make a great addition to the Culinary Institute of America. I know that if given the chance, she will live up to and surpass any expectations you hold for the selected student. I have no reservations in offering the highest recommendation for her current abilities and future potential.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any further questions.

Sincerely,

Michelle Jackson, M.S.
